VENDOR BOOTH RULES & REGULATIONS

To secure your position at the Vancouver Arts & Music Festival (VAMF), please review and accept the following terms and conditions. By completing an application to VAMF, and in consideration of your participation in VAMF, you ("Participant," "exhibiting artist," or "you") acknowledge and agree that you have reviewed and accept the following terms and conditions:

I. Hold Harmless: Participants display all works at their own risk. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Participant shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless the Art Association, its staff, volunteers, subcontractors, and other personnel (collectively the "Association") from and against any and all claims, causes of action, demands, fines, penalties, costs, judgments or other losses, including reasonable attorney's fees ("Claims"), including those (i) related to bodily injury and property damage that may arise from Participant's participation in the VAMF to the extent that any Claims are attributed to any acts or omissions by Participant or anyone employed, contracted or under Participant's direction, directly or indirectly by any of them or by anyone for whose acts any of them may be liable, (ii) related in any way to Participant's merchandise or property, (iii) Participant's violation of these terms and conditions, or (iv) Participant's violation of any applicable law, ordinance, rule, regulation or other. The Association reserves the right to remove any Participant in its sole discretion without refund for violation of any 2024 regulations. If a Participant is a "no-show" at the VAMF, such Participant forfeits the right to apply to VAMF for 3 summers.

II. Artwork: Vendors may sell prints or cards of their original art; however, absolutely no mass produced or manufactured work, buy/sell, workshop art, business with commercial representatives, dealers or manufacturers may exhibit. The Association reserves the right to request that you remove any work that does not fall within these guidelines.

III. Booth & Booth Location: Participants must arrive at the fair equipped with their own, well-secured, canopy tent for their 10x10 booth space setup. Participants must furnish their own display facilities. All tents must be secured to withstand strong wind and sudden gusts, which we experience often in Vancouver, Washington. Weights are preferred: each leg must be weighted with a minimum of 40 pounds. Weights or stakes must be secured to the tent using straps. The Event Coordinator and the Vancouver Fire/EMS event inspector reserve the right to require an exhibiting artist to reinforce their tent, weights, stakes, or straps however they see fit in order to ensure the safety of people and property at Vancouver Arts and Music Festival. All Booths will be sitting on a relatively flat concrete surface. Exhibiting artists are expected to come prepared with appropriate equipment to ensure their booth, displays, artwork, and other property are level and safely secured. Vancouver Arts and Music Festival is not responsible for providing equipment to exhibiting artists to create a flat, level environment in their booth space. No refunds will be given due to the condition of the space assigned to the exhibiting artist.

IV. Participants Sales and Tax Collection: Participants are responsible for collecting Washington Sales Tax. Participants must complete and mail in the sales tax forms provided by the State of Washington at registration within 30 days of each show. The State of Washington maintains a list of all Participants exhibiting in the show. Participants who fail to report sales tax will be liable to the State of Washington and not permitted into any shows until all accounts are current. Washington Participants who have a Washington Tax number may file with their annual or monthly reporting. Tax payments must be a check or money order and made payable to the State of Washington. Send payments to the address posted on your tax forms.

V. Registration: Registration is the Thursday before the show. You must register on Thursday to receive your Participant packet, any special updates, and to confirm your booth space. Please register BEFORE setting up your tent and booth to ensure you are in the correct space and have all necessary information about your booth area. You will be assigned a registration time. Arrive on time to register, then return to your vehicle to unload your booth and display, move your items to your booth space, and then relocate your vehicle to open up parking spaces for artists registering after you.

VI. Security: Security is provided on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday overnight. While this service is offered for the safety of booths and their contents outside of event hours, artists are ultimately responsible for both. As such, we recommend small, high value items are not left in the booth overnight, contents are put away and secured at the end of each day, and tent walls are zipped up and secured. Please be polite and accommodating as security is doing their job to keep participant's property safe.

VII. Electricity: Electricity is available to a limited number of exhibitors. Access will be granted on a first come, first served basis by request on your application. Generators are NOT allowed for exhibitors due to the noise pollution they produce in close proximity to other participants.

VII Clean Up: Participants are required to clean up their booth space of all trash (micro and macro) and haul it to the trash cans. We appreciate your help in keeping the space clean. The Festival will not tolerate trash left behind. Any participant who leaves trash behind in their booth space will be charged a clean-up fee of $50.

IX. No Pets: No exhibitors will be permitted to have their pets with them during the Festival unless the animal is a registered service animal.

X. Emergencies: If there is a medical emergency, there will be an emergency number listed in your packet who will contact emergency services. For minor cuts and bruises the Festival Leaders Admin Tent is equipped with a first aid kit. Lost children should be directed to Admin Tent where volunteers will contact the Event Coordinator.

XI. Weather: Although weather in Vancouver can be unpredictable, we plan to host a great event, rain or shine. Please plan accordingly. In the unlikely event of severe weather, Vancouver Arts and Music reserves the right to cancel in an abundance of caution for the safety of our patrons, participating artists, volunteers, and staff. Should there be a need to cancel the VAMF, Columbia Arts Network will return 50% of the initial registration fee to the Vendor.

XII Appearance and Materials: Participant agrees that VAMF may photograph film and/or record Participant and Participant's booth/materials in VAMF materials, in any and all means and media for advertising.
